Emergency Eyewash: Facts That Can Save a Worker's Sight

Brought To You by Honeywell | Apr 15, 2020

Two-thousand occupational eye injuries occur every day in the U.S., resulting in missed days of work, temporary or permanent loss of vision for the employee, and enormous costs to employers. The American National Standards Institute (ANSI) has set standards for emergency eyewash to keep these injuries to a minimum.

In the infographic below, Honeywell details these standards:
