VIDEO: TOOLING UP – Leveling Up Your End Mill’s Efficiency with OSG

Brought To You by OSG | Jan 05, 2023

Video Highlights

In this episode of MSC's Tooling Up Mitch Free is joined by Alyssa O'Brien, Product Engineer at OSG for a discussion on the culture of OSG and her journey into her current position with the company. She touches on the culture of OSG that centers around development and the freedom to explore new processes. One of these new developments is the HY-PRO® CARB Variable Geometry End Mill, an end mill that improves the high-efficiency milling process.
