VIDEO: TOOLING UP – Benefits of Wire Brushes

Brought To You by Osborn | May 25, 2023

Video Highlights

In this episode of MSC's Tooling Up, Toni Neary is joined by Rich Pepera, Director of Sales at Osborn for a discussion on wire brushes for welding and Osborn's new Honey Badger stringer bead brush.

In this conversation, Rich focuses on the common uses for wire brushes, emphasizes their longevity compared to coated abrasive products, and gets into several more advantages to using wire brushes for your welding projects.

Toni and Rich discuss Osborn's position as a top supplier of wire brushes, attributing it to their reputation, work ethic, and consistently manufacturing quality products. They highlight Osborn's commitment to solving their customers' application problems and the company's history of innovation in wire brushes, as well as other brush types like nylon abrasive and ceramics.

Rich also introduces the Honey Badger, a new development from Osborn with an increased face width, providing aggressive cleaning and longer life.
