VIDEO: TOOLING UP – Improvements in Medical Implants

| Nov 07, 2023

Video Highlights

In this episode of MSC's Tooling Up, Toni Neary is joined by Jay Ball, Product Manager of Solid Milling at Seco Tools and Joe Mecus, Medical Business Development Manager at Seco Tools for a discussion on the advancements Seco Tools has made within the medical device manufacturing industry.

The conversation focuses on Seco Tools' manufacturing improvements to medical implant components and the company's partnerships that have facilitated these improvements. As other technologies emerge, Seco Tools partners with machine builders and CAD/CAM specialists to provide its customers with the full range of benefits.

The episode discusses how Seco Tools has made strides in the medical manufacturing field by developing titanium implant components that contain 3D-printed grooves for bone to grow into, thus increasing the effectiveness of hip and knee replacements for medical patients.

Equally as important, we get a look into Seco Tools' commitment to provide its customers with individualized implementation of its medical solutions as well as the education regarding any regulations and guidelines associated with its products.

This episode of Tooling Up provides valuable insights into the impacts of manufacturing on the medical field and how it improves the lives of patients undergoing invasive surgeries. With the advancements Seco Tools is making in medical component production, you don't want to miss this episode.
