VIDEO: TOOLING UP: Taking Metal Removal to New Depths

| Dec 17, 2024

Video Highlights

In this episode of MSC's Tooling Up, Toni Neary sits down with Brandon Hull, Vice President of Product Management and Business Development at Guhring Inc., to discuss the innovative Diver and Micro Diver End Mills. Brandon shares his journey from crafting competition arrows to becoming a leader in cutting tool technology. The conversation dives into what makes Guhring's Diver End Mills stand out, including their aggressive ramping and plunging capabilities and versatile design for high-speed machining applications.

Brandon also highlights Guhring's industrywide integration, from producing their own carbide rods to designing advanced tool geometries and coatings. This approach ensures unmatched performance, durability, and precision across a wide range of products and materials. Learn how the Diver End Mills excel in ramping, slotting, pocketing, and side milling, offering a game-changing solution for manufacturers.

Join Toni and Brandon as they explore the cutting-edge engineering behind Guhring's tools and their impact on improving productivity and efficiency in the machining industry.
