IMTS 2018 VIDEO: Success—$1 Million Tooling Spike Resolved

| Sep 12, 2018

Video Highlights

- When an aerospace parts manufacturer saw a $1 million spike in its tooling costs, MSC metalworking specialist Roger Majano dove in to investigate. What he found will surprise you and could help your machine shop avoid a similar problem.

When an aerospace parts manufacturer saw a $1 million spike in its tooling costs, an MSC metalworking specialist dove in to investigate.

What he found will surprise you and could help your machine shop avoid a similar problem (even if it hasn't caused quite that big a leap in your tooling overhead).

Participant:

- Roger Majano, Metalworking Specialist, MSC
